

The below sources provide free secondary research that can help supplement export plans:

CIA World Fact Book – <http://www.cia.gov/library/publications/the-world-factbook>

Congressional Budget Justification of the U.S. Agency for International Development - <https://www.usaid.gov/results-and-data/budget-spending/congressional-budget-justification>

Customized Market Research – www.export.gov

Global Population Mapping and Spatial Analysis - <http://www.census.gov/population/international/data/mapping>

International Monetary Fund (IMF) Data and Statistics – <http://www.imf.org/external/data.htm>

Market Research Library – export.gov

OECD Publications – oecdbookshop.org

Textile and Apparel Database – otexa.trade.gov

Trade Stats Express – tse.export.gov

U.S. Census Bureau – census.gov

U.S. Commercial Service Advocacy Center – export.gov/advocacy

U.S. Department of Agriculture Foreign Agricultural Service – <http://www.fas.usda.gov>

United Nations Statistical Yearbook – unstats.un.org/unsd/publications/statistical-yearbook

United Nations Statistics Division – unstats.un.org/unsd/default.htm

World Development Indicators – data.worldbank.org/products/wdi